CHEERING NEWS

Report to the Effect That Work Will Be Ordered on Albuquerque Eastern.

TIES HAVE BEEN PAID FOR

When Senator W. H. Andrews, president of the Santa Fe Central and Albuquerque Eastern railways, with Col. W. B. Hope, who was here about a week or so ago, it was whispered around that the Albuquerque Eastern would undoubtedly be built, and that grading, followed by track laying, would surely be inaugurated by July 1.

When seen by The Citizen representative the senator, likewise the colonel, had no good cheering news to give the public through The Citizen, except to say that "everything looked bright."

Both gentlemen left the city, and the rumors of early work on the Albuquerque Eastern kept growing. Colonel Hopewell came to town the other day, but when approached he was almost as dumb as an oyster—as much as to say "if you want some good news look elsewhere," and The Citizen representative commenced a little investigation.

Scrapie Romero, a member of the contracting firm of Romero & Romero, was in the city. He was seen, and at first denied that his firm had been paid for 150,000 ties cut for the Albuquerque Eastern, but when pressed he admitted that he knew a thing or two, admitted that they had received notes for the ties and these notes, endorsed by the Pennsylvania Development company, had been cashed by the banks. The ties had all been hauled out of the timbers and placed along the line of survey as indicated by the chief engineer. It was Mr. Romero's opinion that work would be ordered on the Albuquerque Eastern by July 1, and that construction, both grading and track laying, would be pushed rapidly to completion. As surveyed the road will come through Tijeras canyon and thence into this city as heretofore outlined.

On the route to this city, from Moriarty station on the Santa Fe Central, the new line will penetrate several valuable coal fields, and will open up an entirely new section of the territory to the trade of this city.

WINFIELD SCOTT FLETCHER

A VETERAN OF THE CIVIL WAR AND A PROMINENT MEMBER OF CARLETON POST, PASSED AWAY.

Winfield Scott Fletcher, a familiar figure on the streets of Santa Fe, and well known throughout the territory, died Monday evening at St. Vincent's hospital in Santa Fe after days of unconsciousness. He was born in Col. Hero, Vermont, 61 years ago. After reaching manhood he taught school for several years in New York state, but at the breaking out of the Civil war, he was fired with the desire to fight for his country, and enlisted in Company C, Second Vermont Infantry, on April 7, 1861. He served throughout the first two years of the strife—being honorably discharged at Washington, D. C., on May 7, 1863, on account of disability caused by wounds. After he had in some measure recovered from these wounds he was employed as a clerk in the interior department. Being appointed timber inspector to New Mexico, he came to the territory more than 30 years ago.

Under Governor Prince's administration Mr. Fletcher served as adjutant general of the territory. He was prominent in Grand Army circles and was adjutant of Carleton Post No. 1, G. A. R., for many years, and at the time of his death. Two brothers survive him, one living in Chicago, and the other, H. L. Fletcher, living at King, New Hampshire.

The funeral took place this afternoon at 4 o'clock at Post hall, under the auspices of the Grand Army, Santa Fe. Rev. W. A. Cooper officiating. Interment was made in the National cemetery in this city.

Georgia Cotton Congress.
Warm Springs, Ga., June 9.—The Georgia Industrial association met in fifth annual meeting here today and was called to order by President P. B. Gordon. The organization comprises a membership of 150 Georgia cotton manufacturers, whose efforts have done much to upbuild the industries and restore the commercial importance of the state. The principal discussions at the present meeting will deal with the problems of labor and immigration, the effect of the Panama canal on Southern industries, and the condition of the far eastern markets as affected by the Russo-Japanese war.

Cornell's Semi-Centennial.
Mount Vernon, Ia., June 9.—Elaborate arrangements have been completed for the semi-centennial jubilee of the Cornell college. The celebration will begin tomorrow and continue for one week. Secretary of the Treasury Shaw, Senators Dooliver and Allison, Bishops Andrew and McDowell and Governors Cummins of Iowa, Van Sant of Minnesota and Mickey of Nebraska are among the men of prominence who have promised to take part in the exercises.

MERCHANTS BREAK EVEN.

Slippery Couple at Las Vegas Leaves Under a Cloud.

Smoky city merchants who trusted one G. S. Ehle, who represented himself as an agent of the American Rose Nursery company, have fared better than they expected, when they heard Ehle and his wife had shipped without paying their accounts, says the Las Vegas Optic. The accounts were assigned for a consideration to W. H. Ungles, secretary of the Business Men's Protective association. There were eight in all, amounting to $50. Mr. Ungles learned that Ehle had ordered $149 worth of trees for the normal, and that he had paid to a nursery in Missouri cash in advance for these trees. The money to pay Ehle was in the hands of the treasurer of the board of regents and Mr. Ungles furnished it. This just about squared the accounts. Several citizens who wrote to the Northern Rose company learned there was no such organization. Mr. Ungles had occasion to write to Ehle's wife at Colorado, concerning the settlement of the Las Vegas accounts. The woman's reply was worth while. "Mr. Ehle was put in jail for a minor offense at Amarillo, Texas," she wrote. "With several others he broke jail and I know nothing of his whereabouts. You must proceed as you think best."

The Business Men's association and its secretary have scored a success in collecting the Ehle account and several have learned anew the lesson that it is bad policy to trust a smooth tongued stranger.

JAIL DELIVERY
AT NOON, AND TWO PRISONERS ARE NOW ENJOYING LIBERTY.

Two prisoners escaped from the Mora county jail at Mora Wednesday night, and are now at large. They are named Seth Sorrell and Harry Schaefer and their names are in the hands of the sheriff in the vicinity of Ray.

Because of good behavior they were allowed the privilege of the jail corridor and were not locked in their cells at night. At 5 o'clock Wednesday evening the jailer, Celestino Mesa, left them for the night. Thursday morning they were gone. They had made a neat escape by placing two chairs on top of a table by which means they easily reached the roof of the cells, muffling the noise of their motions by blankets from their beds. With the canvas of their coats cut into strips they formed a rope with which they safely let themselves to the ground from the jail roof to which access was had through a skylight above the cells. Officers of the law are on the track of the jail breakers, and it is not likely they will long escape capture.

MCKINLEY COUNTY COURT

BUSINESS CONCLUDED—OFFICIALS RETURN TO CITY—PROCEEDINGS.

The district court of McKinley county, held at the county seat of Gallup, concluded business of the June term yesterday, and Judge H. S. Baker, Clerk W. E. Dame, District Attorney F. W. Clancy and Court Stenographer H. P. Owen, returned to the city on the No. 8 passenger train last night.

The grand jury submitted its report yesterday morning, it being published in full elsewhere in today's Citizen. The citizen is under obligations to Court Stenographer Owen for the following court records:

James Clements was given thirty days on a charge of petit larceny. G. D. R. Davis on a charge of petit larceny, was sentenced to thirty days in the county jail.

Charles Supan, on a charge of assault with intent to murder, was sentenced to eighteen months in the penitentiary.

Thomas Martin, who pleaded guilty to "stepping a Benny" (stealing an overcoat) from a passenger car, was given three months in the county jail to think over the error of his way. Frank Walker, selling liquor to the Indians, was given thirty days in the county jail. He said he gave them a quantity of beer and meant no harm.

A civil action of M. Soton vs. Patrick Kennedy for $188 for services said to have been rendered, was decided in favor of the plaintiff, and judgment for the full amount and the costs in the case were rendered in his favor.

The case of Mary Halsey, charged with shooting John Williams, was called for trial, but the prosecuting witness was out of the county and the district attorney was forced to dismiss the case.

The case of Bogutal Zaaszynski vs. Dominick J. Jorell et al, was tried by a jury. It was an action in which the plaintiff sought to recover $900 on account of stone taken by defendant from the plaintiff's stone quarry. The plaintiff failed to establish any material evidence and was forced to take a non-suit.

Chi-Chi-Begay, an Indian indicted on a charge of assault with intent to kill Walter Hostie, a trooper of the Fifth cavalry at Fort Wingate, sentenced to three years in the penitentiary. The assault occurred last March and Hostie hovered between life and death for several days. The Indian struck him on the right side of the head with a heavy piece of iron.

A number of cases on the docket were dismissed for want of prosecution, and both the civil and criminal docket were entirely cleaned up.

ALBUQUERQUE EAGLES

THEY ROYALLY CELEBRATED THEIR THIRD ANNIVERSARY LAST NIGHT.

A birthday party was given last night in Knights of Pythias hall by Albuquerque Aerie, No. 165, Fraternal Order of Eagles. The body is three years old and one of the youngest in the city, but notwithstanding this it is one of the most prosperous and largest here.

There was a short business meeting before the social session, during which several candidates were taught the ways of the Eagle and received their wings.

The Berry-Divine orchestra, assisted by Prof. DiMauro rendered a number of choice selections and Mrs. Rosa Berry, in her usual pleasing way, sang several catchy songs.

Master Chester F. Belber, son of G. G. Belber, of the Belber Optical Co., sang several songs. The young man is 9 years of age and is only waiting for the time when he can put on the wings and join the rest of this jolly organization.

The First Regiment band was in attendance and their music was constantly appreciated.

Nathan Lewis, vice president of the Bismarck Aerie, was present and gave several vocal solos.

After the entertainment was brought to a close, Worthy President Nat Greene thanked those who had contributed to the evening's entertainment and announced that the Aerie would give another social session in the near future.

"Ada Hall and Husband."

Passengers in the city this afternoon on No. 2, bound for Kansas City were "Ada Hall and husband." All that is known of the husband is that he was a cook at the Alvarado in Albuquerque. Ada Hall was for some time a dining room girl at the Castaneda and went from here to Albuquerque. The marriage took place in Albuquerque last night.—Las Vegas Optic.

CRIPPLE CREEK MINES RESUME

Cripple Creek, June 10.—The excitement and disorder throughout this district resulting from the terrible dynamite outrage at Independence last Monday, by which over twenty men were killed and crippled, are gradually subsiding, and an attempt is being made today to restore normal conditions. Work was resumed this morning at the mines employing non-union men, which had been closed since Monday. The Stratton Independence mine, owned by an English company, is the first to reopen. The Portland mine is closed by General Bell, and its 500 employees will be forced, General Bell has said, to abandon the union or leave the district. Employers in all branches of business, without exception, so far as canvassed, have signed an agreement prepared by the Citizens' Alliance not to employ union labor. The streets are quiet today, and no further trouble is anticipated.

General Sherman Bell, military commander, has ordered that 97 members of the Miners' union shall be taken outside of Teller county on a special train this afternoon in accordance with recommendations of the Citizens' Alliance committee, which examined the cases of 100 other union men who were confined in the Victory armory and submitted another report to General Bell today recommending further deportations. General Bell said today that within 48 hours the district will be rid of all agitators and other objectionable men. One deportation after another will be made until none of the men who have terrorized the district so long will be left here. Sheriff Bell has issued an order that all saloons in the district must remain closed until Monday, June 13.

WOMAN SCHEMES TO ENTRAP FAIR GIRL
Beauty is Unlucky Gift to Maiden Who is Sought.

Mary Harper, a 17-year-old girl, left Denver to join her mother in Las Vegas last night, says the Denver Republican. With the girl was her elder sister, Mabel, who had come to Denver to take her home, after the latter had experienced an escapade that was highly diverting.

Mrs. J. E. Harper and her two daughters, Mabel, aged 27, and Mary, 17, had gone from their home in Illinois to Las Vegas, N. M., on account of Mabel's health. They were stopping at one of the best hotels of the place, and also stopping there was an attractive woman who said she was the wife of one of the leading dry goods merchants of Denver. The woman seemed to take a fancy to Mary, who is extremely attractive, both of face and figure, and the girl was considerably attracted to Mrs. Gray, as the woman called herself.

Last week Mrs. Gray announced that she was going home to Denver and invited Mary to accompany her and make a visit for a short time, or as long as she chose to stay. Mary was flattered at the attention paid her by the rich Mrs. Gray and begged her mother and sister to allow her to go, if only for a week. Mrs. Gray agreed to pay the expenses. But Mrs. Harper objected on the ground that she did not know Mrs. Gray. But Mary was not old enough to see the danger, and when she was urged by Mrs. Gray to board the train with the woman and headed for the north.

All the way to Pueblo, Mrs. Gray made herself agreeable, and when the train left there for Colorado Springs she suggested that instead of going to her home in Denver that they take a train for the World's fair. The girl protested mildly at first, saying that her mother would not like it, and even when she feared that her actions might be hard to explain. But the woman insisted, and just before the train got into Colorado Springs she informed Mary that she would have to go to St. Louis with her. By this time the girl's suspicions had been aroused and she became defiant and informed Mrs. Gray that she would not go to St. Louis or anywhere else with her, and that when the train arrived at Denver she intended to inform her mother by wire of her whereabouts and ask for money enough to pay her way back to Las Vegas.

This action on the part of the girl was not well received by the woman, who threatened personal violence if she did not consent to go to St. Louis. But at Colorado Springs the woman left the car and when the train pulled out for Denver it went without her. The girl came here and went direct to the home of a school friend and notified her mother. Last night the sister arrived and the two returned to Las Vegas.

THE GARITA.
The New Mexico Historical Society May Take Steps to Preserve the Ancient Ruin.

An effort is being made by the members of the New Mexico Historical society at Santa Fe to bring matters to a focus concerning what disposition shall be made of the Garita, the old Spanish fort on the hill north of Santa Fe. This is claimed to be the oldest Spanish fortification in the United States and many of the stirring incidents in Santa Fe's history are woven around it. Two years ago the fortifications were in a fairly good state of preservation. It was then that the Historical society tried to get possession, but the owners, although they keep saying that they are going to turn the property over to the Historical society, have not done so as yet, and in the meantime, the old carved lintel of the doorway, the windows and about half of the adobe have been taken away by vandals. If even a vestige of the old Spanish fortification is to be preserved, those who have control of the property will have to take prompt action in the matter.

NEW ERA IN MEDICAL TEACHING

Philadelphia, Pa., June 10.—Scores of the most eminent physicians of this country and Canada, who have been attending the convention of the American Medical association at Atlantic City this week, were present today at the formal dedication of the new medical laboratory of the University of Pennsylvania. Besides the medical men the participants in the dedication exercises included presidents and instructors of many leading medical schools. The students, faculty and guests marched in procession from Houston hall to the new building, where the exercises took place. The speakers included Professor H. P. Bowditch, professor of physiology at Harvard University; Dr. R. H. Chittenden, director of the Sheffield Scientific school at Yale University; Prof. Horatio C. Wood, of the University of Pennsylvania; and Prof. George Dock, professor of medicine at the University of Michigan.

The new medical laboratory provides for the teaching of students and the carrying on of research work in pathology, physiology and pharmacology. In completeness of equipment the laboratory is said to be without a rival in Europe or America. The construction of the building has occupied about four years, and has cost, exclusive of its ground or equipment, in the neighborhood of $700,000. The first floor of the building is to be devoted to physiology and pharmacodynamics, and the second floor will be devoted exclusively to pathology. There are two demonstration rooms and two large lecture rooms, each of the latter having a seating capacity of 400.

The museum and gross morbid anatomy demonstration rooms are in close proximity to the large class laboratory of pathological histology, with the important aim of closely relating the instruction carried on in each. The laboratory of pathological histology, the front of which consists almost entirely of glass, is located so as to face a spacious court, thus insuring an excellent and uniform light and admirably adapting it for microscopic work carried on by a large class. In drawing up the plans for the building the same care was taken to insure perfect lighting in all of the laboratories and demonstration rooms.

TURKISH OUTRAGES MUST BE STOPPED
Paris, June 10.—Foreign Minister Del Casse has been informed from Constantinople that the French, British and Russian ambassadors there reached a joint agreement to present energetic representations to the grand vizier to put a stop to Armenian atrocities. It is expected that joint representation on the subject will be submitted today. This action follows an official investigation confirming that a number of bloody combats have occurred, and that villages have been destroyed and that people have been killed in Armenia.

BIG WOOL SALE
OVER A HUNDRED THOUSAND POUNDS SOLD BY F. A. HUBBELL.

This morning, Hon. F. A. Hubbell negotiated the sale of over 100,000 pounds of wool, the spring clip from his flocks of sheep, to A. Vandervort, a Boston buyer. The wool, in bales of nearly 300 pounds each, will be delivered to Mr. Vandervort at Magdalena, and there loaded on to cars for shipment to Boston. The wool is the best Mr. Hubbell has grown for several years, being very light in quality but full of weight, and he received handsomely for the clip, the consideration being private. Mr. Hubbell's flocks graze on many hillsides and through fertile valleys in western Colorado country, and for the past few years he has improved his flocks wonderfully, thus securing a better average from each sheep.

There are several big buyers now in the city, and negotiations are now in progress to land several big spring clips.

CAPITALISTS HERE

Pennsylvania Millionaires Will Give El Paso Pure Water From Deming.

INTERVIEW ON THE SUBJECT

Messrs. Allen G. Kennedy and J. B. Delamater of the Minneco River Water company, whose articles of incorporation were filed with the secretary of the territory on June 8, and are published elsewhere in today's Citizen, are interviewed at the Alvarado.

Mr. Kennedy this morning made the following statement to a representative of The Citizen:

"The Minneco River Water company has been incorporated with a capital of $2,000,000, for the purpose of furnishing to the city of El Paso a pure and abundant supply of water, procured from the Minneco river, near Deming, and from thence piped with a natural gravity fall to the city.

"The officers of the company are George W. Delamater, of Pittsburgh, president; Allen G. Kennedy, of Santa Fe, vice president and general manager, and James B. Delamater, secretary and treasurer.

"We propose to place in El Paso within one year from beginning of construction, five million gallons of Deming water per day, and should that supply prove inadequate in the future, we are in a position at any time to increase the same up to sufficient water for a city of two hundred thousand inhabitants.

"The syndicate underwriting the stock of the company are Pennsylvania capitalists and are represented in the management of the company by Senator Delamater. While this is their first venture into the New Mexican field of investment the undoubted satisfactory returns from the same will doubtless encourage them to make further investments in this vicinity."

KILLS SMALL SISTER

ACCIDENTLY DISCHARGES A WEAPON CARELESSLY, LAID ASIDE BY HIS FATHER, WITH FATAL RESULT.

The carelessness of parents leaving loaded firearms where young children can get them resulted in a little 10-year-old Mexican boy accidentally shooting his 12-year-old sister in Silver City Tuesday. The little girl died a few hours afterward.

The father had left a six-shooter in a roll of blankets where the children were by themselves and the little boy got hold of it and in trying to take out the shells it was discharged and the bullet struck the little girl in the stomach, passing through her body and killing her in a short time.

The little fellow was so frightened at what he had done that he ran away and hid and it was impossible to find him until hours after the shooting.

A coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental shooting.
